About Me

A final-year computer science student with a passion for web development and computer graphic. My goal in the next three years is building up my experience to become a senior back-end developer and have abilities to take part in complex, scalable products.

PROJECTS

Chat app
8/2022 - 12/2022

Technologies: React Native, NodeJS/ExpressJS, MongoDB, WebRTC

A basic mobile chat app allows users to have real-time communication with each other via texting or video calling. Also, provide some additional features like sending files, a simple friends system, etc.
